Jupiter: This week I have been leaning about fractions and what a third is - in number -  $\frac{1}{3}$ . The book we are reading in class is about Christians. I was super daisy for World Book Day - Daisy.

Saturn: This week in maths, we are all learning about perimeter. In English we are practicing the Peace Child, World book day was really fun. Today we are going on a school trip to the Gurdwara and Mandir - Quinn

Neptune: This week in Neptune has been learning about the American Civil War in topic and about how it started because of enslavery. I am glad it is not like that today. In maths we learnt about area and perimeter, we found this a bit challenging and in English we continued working with our Holes book. - Millie

The day was filled with many off timetable activities, the children visited a the “Cavendish Reading Café” where they enjoyed sharing a book with a friend and their peers. The children have written a new school poem, with each class focusing on a part of our vision statement, which you can read below. The playground turned into a “where’s Wally” search and lunchtime included the creative chair, building a character with lego and a reading around the world quiet area. The day ended with stories being read by adults at their story stations.

Our School Poem – World Book Day 2023

Goodbye is a challenge, writing sentences is a challenge, cooking is a challenge.

Colourful cardboard creations calm us
We proudly present our personal projects
Magical materials mix musically
Our super special stories sparkle sensationally

When we practice compassion, everything counts, whenever someone's sad we double their happiness counts.
We had fun sharing the books at the café
While wearing the hats made out of paper mâché
When you show compassion, everyone is your friend
We have passion for compassion

If we help others have a fresh start
We can all play a part in each other's heart
Be mindful and peaceful and love one another
Create in me a pure heart.

School Drop off

If you leave your child unaccompanied on the village green or in the before school. Please can you remind them that they should be in school ready for 8.45am registration. If your child is late to class the register has to be marked as a late arrival. Any consistent repeated late marks may trigger a referral to the Suffolk Education Welfare Officer. Many thanks for your co-operation with this.

Parking at school collection

We have been requested to ask parents to be mindful of where they park at school collection time. The area where the double yellow lines outside the church is being used for parking. This makes it unsafe for families crossing the road and for cars leaving the pub carpark.

PTFA Fund allocation - Survey

Thank you to everybody that responded to the recent questionnaire. There were so many excellent new fundraising ideas as well being able to gauge a preferred area of priority spend, these have been shared with the PTFA chair.
