What have we learnt this week: Class News

Mars: Today is Fresh Air Friday and we went outside to the school grounds. Then we had the trikes and scooters out. – James

Jupiter: In art we coloured a portrait of Florence Nightingale, we decorated the crosses on the front of our art books. Phonics, English and maths are our favourite – Elkie, George and Kiara

Saturn: Saturn class have been busy making and painting Bronze Age pots this week in Art lessons, to help bring their Topic work to life. The children really enjoyed using an authentic, natural palette of colours to decorate their creations.

Neptune: This week we have been learning a lot about the Victorian's and we have spent 3 days writing backstories for a character in Oliver Twist. In maths we have been learning short and long multiplication. – Keaton

Stone age topic – Saturn Class

Saturn class were recently sent some Topic homework, all the children did a great job of thinking of modern day inventions that they would like to take back to the Stone Age and why, Miss Santinelli wanted to share these with you.

Amelia told us that she would take a lighter back to the Iron Age for these reasons, firstly it would certainly make it easier to light a fire to keep warm, this would make it quicker and easier to cook food. Having access to fire would help with dying clothes and smoking food to preserve it, finally it would be easy to light a torch from a fire to see in the dark caves

A STONE AGE POEM BY EMILY

Spears to hunt our prey,
The tribe will feast today.
One piece of meat,
Now we can eat.
Each person takes part,

All of them love art,
Gathering fruit and nuts,
Everyone sleeps in huts.

Thomas gave a great explanation as to why he would take a wind up torch.

Dear Miss Bontenli,

I would like to take a wild ~~up~~ torch back to the stone age. As I believe a torch would be a fantastic way to scare away predators and it would be very helpful to see in the dark for everybody. An example of this would be:

- 1) Gatherers can find food for longer.
- 2) Hunters can hunt during the night.
- 3) The families in the caves will be able to see at night.

I think a wind up torch would be a magical experience for stone age people, especially, as it doesn't need electricity and would light up their world !!!!!!

I hope you agree a wind up torch would be a brilliant piece of modern technology to take back to the stone age.

Thank you
